		Colombia.

RESOLUTION	STATUS	OBSERVATIONS
		3. IICA-FAO-ECLAC:
		• The three organizations' working relationship has been consolidated, as can be seen from the preparation of the annual reports on the "Outlook for Agriculture and Rural Development in the Americas: A perspective on Latin America and the Caribbean," the fourth edition of which was published in 2012. This working relationship has made it possible to promote the implementation of joint technical events on the issues addressed in the reports, and others related to the use of ICTs in agriculture and to improve rural life (CAESPA).
		4. Agricultural Health and Food Safety Program:
		An FAO representative joined the International Advisory Group for the project to create the Regional Virtual Food Inspection School for Central America and the Dominican Republic.
		• The implementation of an action plan with the Secretariat of the International Plant Protection Convention (IPPC) is ongoing. As part of this effort, and at the Secretariat's request, the AHFS Program developed the Virtual Course on Pest Risk Analysis for use worldwide. The Institute has also been holding regional workshops to discuss draft ISPMs. In September 2012, IICA organized two workshops, in coordination with the IPPC Secretariat, to enable the NPPOs of Latin America and the Caribbean to discuss the draft ISPMs that the Standards Committee is beginning to develop. One of the workshops brought together representatives of the NPPOs of the English-
