WELCOME TO IICA-CANADA TRILINGUAL WEB SITE

COUNTRY <input type="text"/>	CATEGORY <input type="text"/>
GO! <input type="text"/>

IICA-Canada is proud to present its new trilingual Web Site. It has been redesigned to improve the ease of accessing the new list of categories concerning agricultural information. On the left side of the introductory page you will find a list of the countries of the Americas, starting from the North, Canada, to the farthest South, Argentina. On the right side, you will find a list of categories beginning with agricultural health and ending with treaties and agreements. By pulling down the menus, select the country and category of choice and then click "GO!". You will find links with the most relevant information available on your choices.

We also included a new version of our On-Line "IICA-Canada Consultant Application Form", thus enabling all agricultural and agribusiness consultants in the Americas to register in our data bank. Our aim is to enable IICA Headquarters and Technical Cooperation Agencies to share and to use the results available on-line.

We hope that you find our Web site a helpful starting point in exploring the Internet and your feedback will ensure that we continue to meet your needs.

This site provides general information about the Codex Alimentarius and the joint FAO/WHO Food Standards Programme

Data Bank of Medicinal Plants

An information system about medicinal plants in Brazil, provided by the University of Sao Paulo

EPA-Environmental Protection Agency

Contains information on regulations and approvals of fields releases of genetically engineered microorganisms

FAO Animal Health Service of the Animal and Health Division

The Animal Health Service is responsible for helping member countries to develop strategies for the economic control of animal pests and diseases

FAO Global Plant Quarantine Programme

Provides information on FAO's programme developed to support its member countries in the prevention of introduction of foreign plant pests and diseases.

FAO Plant Protection Service

It addresses international aspects of plant protection and closely cooperates with regional and national plant protection programmes

FAO: Emergency Prevention System (EMPRES)

Provides general information on prevention of plant pests, focusing on the desert locust, and animal diseases

FTAA Working Group on Sanitary and Phytosanitary Measures

Provides information on the terms of reference of the Working Group, instructions for future work, schedule of meetings, and a list of available publications and databases.

GCPF - Global Crop Protection Federation

Provides information on GCPF, publications, working groups, industry, position papers, links of interest, and more.

ICLAS - International Council for Laboratory Animal Science

Provides reports and documents of the meeting of ICLAS/CSIC Working Group on complementary methods

IICA-Saninet

Saninet is a regional information service on agricultural health coordinated through IICA's Andean Regional Center

ILAR - Institute of Laboratory Animal Resources

Provides information on its mission, roster of ILAR Council Members, program descriptions, publications and databases.

IPMnet: Integrated Pest Management Network

Created by the Consortium for International Crop Protection it is a network and bulletin board of IPM reports, monthly issues of IPMnet news, a message board and communications with others interested in IPM in developing countries

IPPC-Secretariat of the International Plant Protection Convention

Provides information on the mission of the IPPC Secretariat, with links to the Regional Plant Protection Organizations, the WTO Agreement on Sanitary and Phytosanitary Measures

ISPP - International Society for Plant Pathology

Provides information on the ISPP objectives and structure, newsletter, international scientific events, and more.

IWSS-International Weed Science Society

Provides information on scientific events, access to Weed Science Journals and links to the Integrated Plant Protection Homepage.

Laboratory Animal Care Information Sites & Resources

Provides links to laboratory animal science, national (U.S.) legislation, publications, and animal welfare issues.

NAHMS-National Animal Health Monitoring System

NAHMS conducts national studies to gather data and generate descriptive statistics and compiles statistics and information from data collected by other industry sources.

NAPPO-North American Plant Protection Organization

This site provides information on the cooperative work being developed between Canada, Mexico and USA in the area of plant protection

National Animal Disease Center

Provides information on avian and swine respiratory diseases; enteric diseases and food safety; metabolic diseases and immunology; virology; and zoonotic diseases.

National IPM Network

Provides agricultural biotech information and links to Web sites related to integrated pest management worldwide

NPCA - National Pest Control Association

The NPCA is the only association representing pest management firms worldwide. Provides information on scientific events regarding pest management and on related publications.

OIE: Office International des Epizooties

Offers current animal health status reports, publications and a site to download updated programs and data for software programs

PAHO: Pan-American Health Organization

Offers country health profiles, publications, library services and other sites of interest

PANNA: Pesticide Action Network North America

NGO that advocates adoption of ecologically sound practices in place of pesticide use. It works in Canada, USA and Mexico.

Provided by Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada

Quebec's General Direction on Food Quality and Animal Health

Provides technical information on conditions affecting animal health and advice for the general public in food safety.

Regulatory Information

This site provides links with the Regional Plant Protection Organizations, members of the International Plant Protection Convention (IPPC).

Scientist Center for Animal Welfare

Provides information on welfare of animals, animal research issues, organizing and conducting conferences on scientific and ethical issues, books, periodicals, and more

Servicio Autonomo de Sanidad Agropecuaria - SASA

Provides information on Ecuador's agricultural health services including national plant and animal pests and disease control programs, sanitary and phyto-sanitary emergency measures, and more

Servicio Ecuatoriano de Sanidad Agropecuaria - SESA

Provides information on Ecuador's agricultural health services, including national plant and animal pests and disease control programs, sanitary and phyto-sanitary emergency measures, and more

Servicio Nacional de Sanidad Agraria - SENASA

Provides information on Peru's agricultural health services including sanitary and phyto-sanitary emergency measures, and more

Sistema Andino de Sanidad Agropecuaria

A site providing a series of Andean countries legislations, a basic catalog of plant diseases and more

SVME - Society for Veterinary Medical Ethics

This site provides information on SVME background and objectives, current issues and papers, and on their annual conference.

TBASE-Transgenic/Targeted Mutation Database

TBASE organizes the information generated and analyzed worldwide about targeted mutations and transgenic animals

TFREC: Tree Fruit Research & Extension

contains a developing database of references on diseases and insect pests of fruit trees from Washington State University

The Official Mad Cow Disease Home Page

3,350 articles on mad cow and Creutzfeldt-Jacob disease, prions, bovine spongiform encephalopathy, and more

Transgenic and Targeted Mutant Animal Database

It is an unique site in that researchers provide data about their lines of animals, therefore information that is not necessarily available from published literature is found in the database

USDA Plant Protection and Quarantine

APHIS (USDA) provides information on phytosanitary import regulations, permits, programs, activities, and more.

WAB - World Association for Buiatrics

Information on the aims, structure and scientific events organized by the WAB
